ENTREPRENEURIAL LEADERSHIP I:
EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION AND TEAMWORK SKILLS

Presentation by Thanikun Chantra
School of Social Innovation
Mae Fah Luang University

HAVE YOU EVER!!

THIS IS THE WAY YOU WANT YOUR AUDIENCES TO BE AFTER LISTENING TO YOUR SPEAKING

COMMUICATION BENEFITS

- Communication is a core leadership function. It is the key to success.
- Leadership communication is about getting things done and keeping others engaged and connected.
- It is about saying the right things, in a powerful way, to mobilize people and deliver results.
- Communication can make or break an organization, and in fact, many teams experience a loss of productivity due to communication issues.

3 COMPONENTS OF COMMUNICATION

SPEAKER/SENDER

MESSAGE

LISTENER/RECEIVER

COMMUNICATION

WHILE THAT SHOULD BE PRETTY SIMPLE TO IMPLEMENT, IT'S REALLY NOT.

ESPECIALLY IN TODAY'S INCREASINGLY EGOCENTRIC SOCIETY WHERE WE WANT TO BE HEARD, BUT DON'T NECESSARILY WANT TO LISTEN.

THE GREAT COMMUNICATORS LISTEN WITH AN OPEN EAR, EAGER TO HEAR AND UNDERSTAND WHAT IS BEING SAID, AND WHAT'S LEFT UNSAID

LEADERSHIP COMMUNICATION

WHEN LEADERS SPEAK, THEY ARE ABLE TO SHARE THEIR IDEAS IN A WAY THAT INSPIRES AND MOTIVATES OTHERS.

LEADERS WHO ARE GOOD COMMUNICATORS ARE OPEN AND EASY TO TALK TO. PEOPLE FEEL SAFE AROUND THEM, AND TRUST THAT THEIR IDEAS WON'T BE IGNORED.

BEING SINCERE IS THE BEST COMMUNICATION

BUILDING TRUST, IMPROVING ENGAGEMENT

10 RULES FOR LEADERSHIP EFFECTIVE COMMUNICATION

1. Start by opening up and having real conversations with your team. Give them a safe space to share their ideas, and respect what they say.

2. keep your message simple and concise.

3. Be respectful

4. Leaders recognize the need to adjust how they speak to different people based on personal communication styles

5. If the message is important enough, it deserves face-to-face, or at least voice-to-voice.

6. Good communicators are also good listeners. When you listen well, you gain a clear understanding of another perspective and knowledge. Listening encourages trust, respect, and openness.

7. Listen more, talk less. Don't let your ego dictate how much you say. Instead, focus on what you are hearing and seeing.

8. Make time to communicate and make the most of that time. Saying you don't have time to communicate means you don't have time to lead.

9. The job isn't done when the message is sent. Make sure your message is heard and really understood

10. Be empathy, yet confident

ELEMENTS OF MESSAGE

SPECIFIC

Hit to the point

SIMPLE

- Easy to understand
- Simple communication is smart communication

CONCISE

to keep attention

SINCERE

- To your audience and to yourself
- Sincere compliment and honest feedback

5 TIPS FOR PUBLIC SPEAKING

1. Eye contact: face the audiences as much as possible
2. Hands: lock and don’t cross your arms
3. Posture: stand straight, relaxed
4. Movement and body language
5. Smile, mood and tone

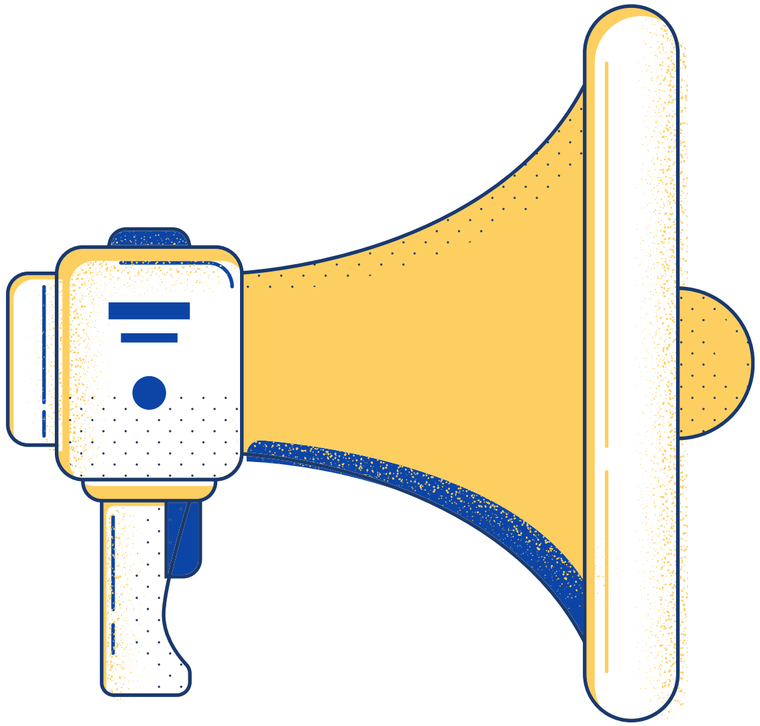

PRACTICE MAKES PERFECT

Teamwork Skills

The elements and skills you need for a successful team

“People acting together as a group can accomplish things that no individual acting alone could ever hope to bring about.”

Franklin Delano Roosevelt

What is a Team?

- A team can certainly be described as a group of people organized to work together.
- A team is a work group that must rely on collaboration of each member is to experience the optimum success and achievement.

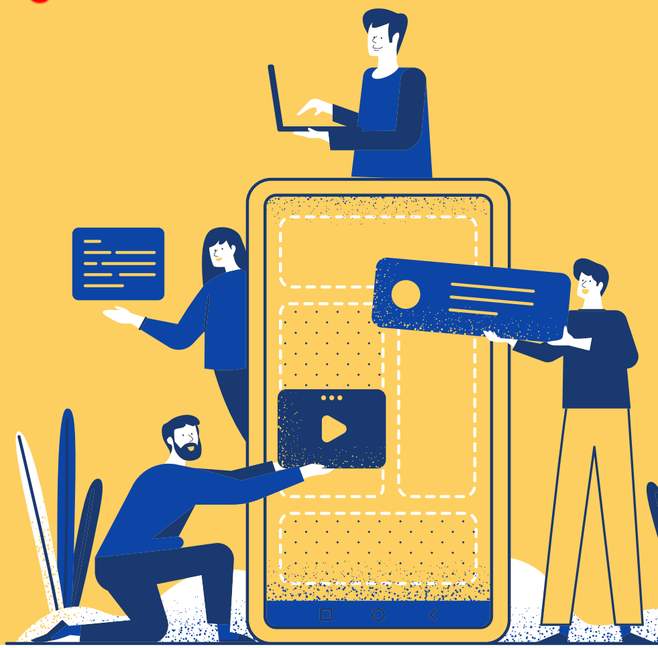

What is a Team?

- Teams are not necessarily all alike.
- Not every team is really a team, and some groups that are called by other names occasionally do phenomenal teamwork.

The importance of a team

- Improved performance through a broader knowledge and experience base.
- Greater creativity, wider perspective and increased effectiveness in tackling problems.
- A shared responsibility for assignments and a shared commitment to goals.
- A more effective delegation of tasks.
- A more stimulating and motivating environment for team members.

CHALLENGES OF TEAMWORK

- Conflicts among team members, caused by various human feelings and responses.
- Interference with an individual's expertise. The team process may diminish a team member's ability.
- Possible slowdown of a decision making
- Domination by one group or faction within the team of the other members, reducing the value of the whole team's contribution.
- Time and energy spent on developing a team community.

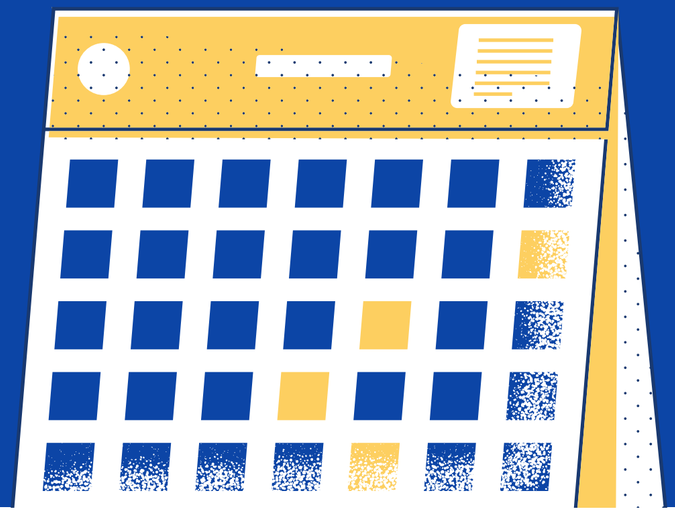

WHY A TEAM FAILS?

- Lack of management support.
- Inadequate resources.
- Weak leadership (your role!!)
- Misunderstood or conflicting team goals.
- Ignoring interpersonal relationships.
- Team members who do not take responsibility for themselves.
- Too many or too few team members.
- Lack of common vision.
- Inadequate reward systems.

HOW TO BUILD TEAMWORK

- Make the team goals clear to every team member.
- Listen to your team.
- Encourage all members to contribute by asking their opinions
- Encourage the team to talk often about its goals.

•Establish ground rules. For example

- All meetings will start and stop on time.
- All criticism must be constructive.
- Differences of opinion will be recognized and explored.
- All members will keep others informed on a need-to-know basis.

•Choose the decision-making processes your team will use:

1. Leader decides with team input.
2. Majority decides.
3. Small group of experts decides.
4. Decision by consensus

Leadership and effective collaboration.
Copy link
Watch on YouTube

TEAM-TALK TIPS

- Use “we” and “us” (when referring to team).
- Refer often to team goals and interests.
- Use questions to open space for dialogue.
- Don’t interrupt low-power people.
- Ask “Can you tell me why this is important to you?
- Ask “What are our options at this point?”
- Suggest “What if we…?”
- Ask “What are your concerns?
- Say “thank you” to your team members

THANK YOU